Dear esteemed members and partners of SNAMES,

It is my honour and privilege to be elected as the President of SNAMES and serve alongside a team of committed and passionate council members and volunteers in the new term. I like to take this opportunity to thank the good work done by our previous council led by Mr Chandru and his capable team, where the new council seek to continue and deliver more values to our members and partners.

Our society plays a pivotal role in driving innovation, excellence, and collaboration within the maritime and offshore industry. With Singapore being a global maritime and offshore engineering hub, our members are at the forefront of designing, constructing, and operating cutting-edge marine vessels and complex offshore structures that traverse and deployed in the world's oceans.

In today's rapidly evolving landscape, characterized by technological advancements, environmental concerns, and shifting market dynamics, the expertise and dedication of our members are more critical than ever. Together, we have the opportunity to shape the future of the maritime and offshore industry, leveraging our collective knowledge and experience to overcome challenges and seize new opportunities.

The new council has set out on the following missions: i) upskill our naval architect & marine engineer profession towards low carbon and digital economy, ii) rejuvenate the profession through rebranding and outreach exercise. Part of this new initiative is setting up youth wing to promote naval architecture and marine engineering discipline to existing students and iii) increase collaboration within the maritime and offshore ecosystem both locally and overseas to advance our goals.

As we chart the course ahead, I encourage our members to continue fostering collaboration and pursuing excellence in all endeavors. Let us leverage our collective knowledge and experiences to address the challenges and opportunities that lie ahead, ensuring a vibrant and more resilient maritime and offshore industry for generations to come.

Thank you and I look forward to your continuous strong support to SNAMES.

Warm regards,

Ang Joo Hock

SNAMES President
