DEAR FELLOW MEMBERS OF SNAMES AND FRIENDS,

I am grateful for the opportunity to be elected as the President of SNAMES and to be of service to all SNAMES members. It is heartening and of great honour to be able to serve alongside the existing dedicated council members as well as newly nominated council members.

This term, the 2021 council consists of a well-rounded group of members from within the Marine Industry ranging from International association, Shipping Companies, Shipyards, Insurance, Registry and many more. SNAMES is fortunate to onboard these young men and women who overflows with fresh and creative ideas, bringing dynamism and energy into this year's council. I am convinced that through the constant renewal of younger members into the council, SNAMES will be able to grow from strength to strength.

The Covid-19 pandemic made 2020 a challenging year where regular activities and events were shelved or became almost impossible to hold. But through this unplanned transformation in the way we always did things, we learned to conduct activities under a new paradigm. The steadfast leadership of our immediate past president, Mr Koh Shu Yong, and his team of dedicated council members in 2020 has opened the doors for SNAMES to leverage the power of technology in holding technical talks and online events to keep up with engagement of members and friends.

The council of 2021 will build on the strong foundation and continue the good work. We endeavour to take the vision of which SNAMES was founded on, to greater heights.

Going forward, I would like to extend my gratitude and appreciation to all our members for your continuous support to SNAMES. The Council Members of 2021 will continue to work towards bringing forth more value through our diverse network, webinars, and events to all our members this 2021 to the best of our ability.

As I come to the conclusion of this message, I reflect that the pandemic situation in Singapore has recently entered a new phase which requires greater vigilance and perseverance. On a cautious yet confident note, I wish all our members good health and together we can all get through this stronger, more united and appreciative of the blessings in our lives.

SINCERELY,

Lee Ee Win

SNAMES President
